IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT PATNA
Cr.Misc. No.47838 of 2007
RAJESH MANJHI
Versus
THE STATE OF BIHAR
---

4 12.5.2008 Heard.

This is a case under Sections 395, 397, 120B and other allied sections of the IPC and Section 17 of C.L. Act.

The case relates to looting of a police camp and causing injury to several police personnels in the camp.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is not named in the FIR and there is nothing in the case diary against him; neither incriminating articles have been recovered from his possession nor has there been any T.I. Parade.

From perusal of the case diary (para 37), it appears that petitioner has criminal history and earlier from his possession uniform of members of the M.C.C. organization and some articles were recovered. In the present case also on his confessional statement fire arm has been recovered from a place which is close to the place of occurrence of this case.

The nature of the offence is very serious. A mob of 50 to 60 persons attacked police camp and looted fire arms etc. and in course of the same several police personnels were injured.

Considering the above, I do not feel inclined to release the petitioner on bail. His prayer for bail is, therefore, rejected at this stage.
